

Nati is a songbird. She has portrayed herself with a microphone in hand singing a ballad. She often sings as she makes art. Please note her florid sense of fashion.

Leopoldo has his cell phone in hand. He drew his face. Then he clipped a little face from the paper with a big smile which resembles his big smile!

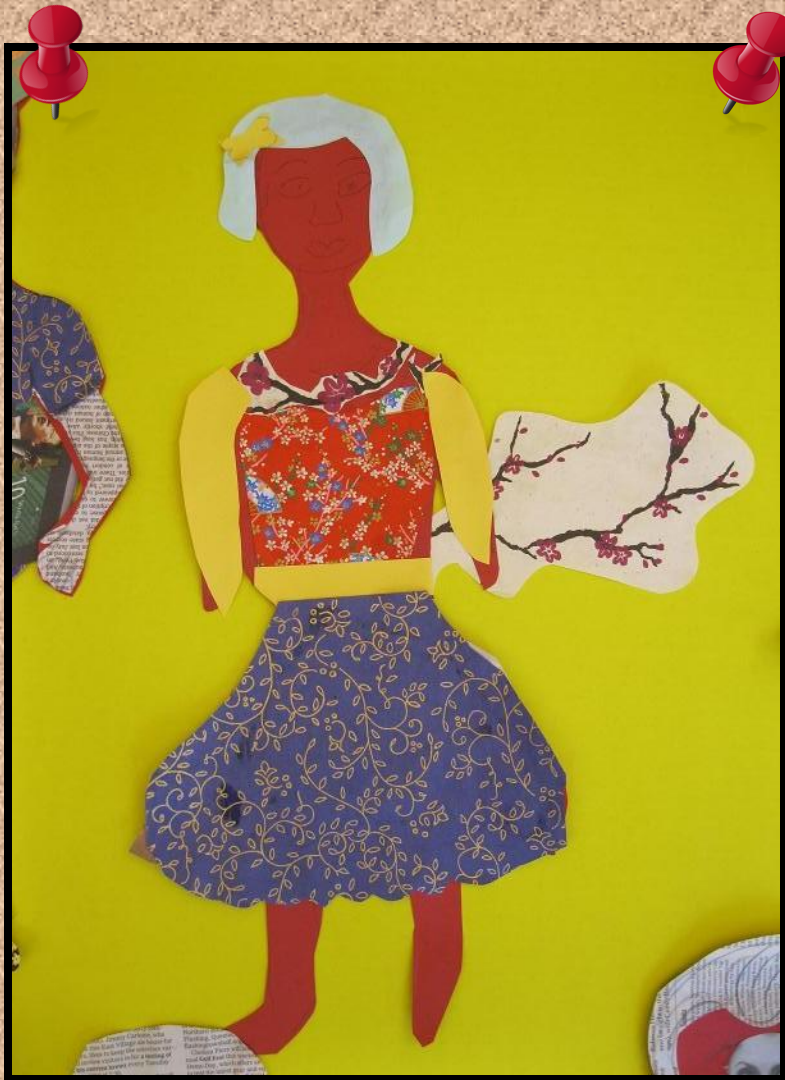

Gertrudes portrays herself here under her typical cap!

This senior gentleman has a computer and cell phone on hand! He plays Mah Jong in the same space as the SteppingStone art class.

Wei Jing has a big, flowering branch of a tree in hand to represent her love of nature which she paints avidly.

This participant just started making art for the first time since childhood a month ago! Her self portrait paper doll is with a movie screen to represent her use of the DVD player to watch movies.

Diosa is portraying herself using a mobile phone. She is a beautiful artist, as you can see in her portrayal.

